DANIELSON

Chief A. P. Woodward, of the fire department, has followed up the complaints of members of the department relative to motorists blocking approaches to hydrants with their machines and otherwise hampering the apparatus and members of the department at fire by stating that he has issued orders to members of the fire department to take the numbers on all motor cars left parked near hydrants at a fire. These numbers will be forwarded to the state motor vehicle commissioners and action asked from the department. Chief Woodward says he can see no excuse trying to race ahead of the fire department's apparatus in getting to a fire and less for parking cars about a hydrant that is to be used.

By order of the warden and court of burgesses and upon recommendation of Chief A. P. Woodward of the fire department, notices are to be posted in Academy street between Main and School streets, forbidding the parking of cars excepting on one side of the street. This is done to prevent congestion that is likely to interfere with the quick exit of the fire department apparatus from the central station on Academy street. Frequently when all parking space in other streets in the business section is fully occupied motorists leave their cars in Academy street, making both sides of the thoroughfare, and leaving only a narrow lane through which it is difficult and delaying to drive the big motor pumper.

At the request of various interested parties, Chairman Henry P. Dubois of the local organization of the American committee for relief in Ireland, has decided not to close the drive in Killingly until Attawaugan and Ballouville can be canvassed. It also has been ascertained that many Danielson people who desire to give have not been approached by the canvassers. Chairman Dubois pointed out that any contributions may be left with the treasurer of the committee, Clifford H. Starkweather, at the Danielson Trust Company. Indications are that the fund obtained in Killingly and Brooklyn will be between $1400 and $1500.

Friends here have learned with regret of the death of Phoebe Green Knight, after a short illness with pneumonia. During the past few years she has been a resident of Wallingford, Mass., but practically all of her early life was spent in Windham county. She was born October 5, 1840, a daughter of Isaac and Rhoda Mathewson Knight who were residents at Canterbury, Green. For years she was a resident of Brooklyn. The body was taken to Plainfield for burial.

In asking for bids for the construction of two short stretches of the borough sewer system, as authorized by the annual borough meeting this week, the official board has made it clear that it will not entertain bids that are excessively high and retain the right to have the borough build the sewers if the borough can do it more economically than some bidder for the work. Last year the borough successfully demonstrated that it could build sewers for less cost than any contractor was willing to undertake the job for, and with that experience in mind will soon close the bids submitted for the new work. For each of the new lines of sewer that appropriation is $1100.

At her home on Railroad street, Friday afternoon at one o'clock funeral services for Mrs. Julia White were conducted by Rev. Walter B. Williams, of the Westfield Congregational church, of which she was a member. The service was attended by relatives and friends, including representatives of the organization with which Mrs. White had been identified. Burial was in Grove street cemetery, Putnam. L. E. Kennedy was the funeral director.

Given the option by the annual borough meeting as to whether they should sell or lease the borough farm on Dyer street, the borough officials have decided to retain the property and to spend $500 on needed repairs and improvements about the property, which several persons are anxious to lease. It is believed by the borough officials that the farm can be retained on a profitable basis for the taxpayers.

Announcements made Friday by the New Haven road relative to its passenger train service effective April 24, confirm the worst, as to the kind of service Danielson is going to have. Whether or not any effort would be made, jointly with other towns along the local line for a retention of even the present schedule, was not evident here on Friday. The New Haven road will not run less than a number of trains after April 24 than they are running now for the accommodation of passengers, but they are going to run them when they will be least valuable to the traveling public.

Rev. R. M. Jones of Barre is to give an illustrated address at the Methodist church Sunday evening.

Rev. Frank Henry of Montana will preach at the morning service at the Congregational church on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Richard Carpenter, who were married last Sunday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Rainville, of South street, returned from their wedding trip, where C. Baker of Fall River was a visitor with friends in Danielson Friday.

From the public library during the past year 1920 persons borrowed 28,650 books, indicative of the interest shown in this institution.

Members of the class of 1921, Killingly High School, enjoyed one of the most delightful events of their high school career, Friday evening, when the annual promenade brought together the class and their guests. The affair was held at the assembly hall at the high school. Music was by Humphries' orchestra.

Members of the Sewing class of the Girls' club held a meeting Friday evening.

Mrs. F. E. Cunniff was elected president of the Fortnightly club, Mrs. L. S. Price, vice president, Mrs. W. H. Knowles secretary and Mrs. O. C. Street treasurer.

J. V. Baird of Providence was in Danielson Friday on a business trip.

At a service to be held at the Congregational church in South Killingly Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Frank Henry of Montana is to be the preacher.

It was announced that the senior class of Killingly High school made a profit of $265 out of the recent production of the senior play, Green Stockings. At next Friday evening's meeting of Dorcas Rebekah lodge the members will Elmer E. Himes, 58, died suddenly at his home in Providence, Thursday night. Cards received from him by local business men announced that he would be here on one of his regular business trips next Monday. Mr. Himes was a well known cigar manufacturer and had traveled through all eastern Connecticut for more than 25 years. He was born at East Killingly, during the early part of the Civil war, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Himes, and a grandson of John L. Himes, who was a mill owner there sixty or seventy years ago. Mr. Himes leaves his wife and three sons.

Mrs. Emily J. McGinty, 69, wife of James H. McGinty, died at her home in Foster, Mrs. McGinty died in the house in which she was born and had always lived. She leaves her husband, a son, Charles, and a sister, Mrs. Ray Howard, of Foster Center.

Funeral services for Henry E. Nye were conducted at his home in Foster by Rev. W. G. Sargent, of the Elmwood Christian church, Providence. Delegations from the G. A. R., W. R. C. and S. of V. attended the service. The S. of V. conducted the burial ritual at the grave at Foster Center. A. F. Wood was the funeral director.

Louis Wolf, who has been prominently identified with the business of this city for more than a decade, announced Friday that he is to leave here in the fall to make his home in Springfield, Mass.

Mr. Wolf is to be one of the incorporators of a $500,000 automobile sales concern, in which New York and Springfield men are to be interested. Mr. Wolf will hold 20 per cent. of the stock. The same line of cars as Mr. Wolf handles in Putnam will be put out in Springfield and all the adjoining territory, including Chicopee Falls, Palmer, Holyoke, Northampton and other cities. A dozen sub-agents will handle cars for the concern, in the cities about Springfield.

The new concern is to erect a big garage on State street, Springfield. The structure will be of fireproof material, two stories in height and 300 by 110 feet. It will have a storage capacity of 250 cars. The lower floor will provide space for sales and display room for new cars and a storage section for many machines. The second floor will have a sales and display room for used cars and storage quarters for other used cars.

The building will also provide space for a repair department, a painting and upholstery department and for radiator work.

Mr. Wolf says the building will be the finest and most modern in New England devoted to the line in which it is to be used.

Mr. Wolf will retain his Norwich motor interests, also those in this city. He feels, however, that Springfield offers a splendid field for operations in selling motor cars, so is to locate there.

An aftermath of the arrest here a short time ago of Dr. J. P. McKenna of Providence, his presentation in the city court and his acquittal and of his then bringing suit for damages against John W. Whipple, L. L. Averill and George Lord of the police department, is the filing by Mr. Whipple of a suit for damages against Dr. McKenna. Mr. Whipple claims that he was injured by McKenna when McKenna was caused to his machine when it was struck by another automobile driven by Dr. McKenna.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment

Given By One Who Had It

In the year of 1893 I was attacked by rheumatism and inflammation. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I was treated after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and I have never returned.

I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, and even bedridden with rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case. I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try.

After you have used it, it has proven itself to be that long-sought-for means of curing your rheumatism. You are perfectly satisfied, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied. I send it isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when you can be cured in this manner? Don't delay. Write today.

Why We Are Strong for Willard

We've seen a lot of batteries, but never another like the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery.

Threaded Rubber insulates the plates instead of separating them the way wood separators do.

No carbonizing, puncturing, checking or cracking, because Threaded Rubber Insulation retains all the valuable insulating qualities of rubber and is not affected by acid.

That's one reason why we're strong for Willard Threaded Rubber Batteries.
